Dear parents,

As your child approaches the end of Key Stage Three we are starting to prepare them and plan for their options. These will mean that they study fewer subjects at Key Stage Four, but they will study them in greater depth. The options process is starting now with your child choosing their options and teaching will begin next year in year ten.

In Years 10 and 11 all students will follow GCSE courses in core subjects (English, Mathematics, Combined Science and Religious Education). Students will also follow NEA (Non-Examined Assessment) courses of Physical Education and PHSE.

One option will be taken from group 1 (humanities, languages and Science section), the rest will be taken from group 2.
